

March 12, 2020

PureFUN is actively monitoring Coronavirus (COVID-19) developments as they continue to evolve. The health of our clients and employees is of the utmost importance and we are daily reviewing areas to strengthen for the prevention of and protection against the virus.

Company leadership is taking proactive measures to implement the guidelines and recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control (CDC).

We have provided training and reminders regarding sanitation policies here at PureFUN, such as proper hand washing, disinfectant and sanitizing stations, as well as refreshers on best use practices for coughing and sneezing. We also are instructing our employees to stay home if they feel sick or are returning from an area identified as posing a coronavirus-related risk. Per CDC recommendations, we will ask employees who have traveled to such locations or have been exposed to others who have traveled to such locations to self-quarantine for 14 days. In addition, we have set up protective protocols for any employee visiting customer sites that will help lower the risk of cross contamination between locations.

The facilities at PureFUN are being disinfected regularly and steps for magnified sanitation are being added daily. A committee specifically dedicated to protection against the COVID-19 virus is meeting daily to take action on the latest discoveries.

As new developments unfold in the coming days and weeks, you can be assured that PureFUN is regularly monitoring and doing all possible to remain stable corporately and in our commitments to our customers.

We value our ongoing opportunity to serve you. We will put every effort into maintaining practices that promote health and reliability.